DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 10-21 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The Applicant's claimed invention is deemed allowable over the prior art as the prior art fails to teach or fairly suggest analyzing a blood specimen containing a plurality of lipoproteins and computationally determining a lipid phenotype comprising calculating an integrated value for each optical density waveform that is formed by conducting electrophoresis on the blood specimen to obtain an electrophoretogram for each of a plurality of different lipoprotein components, calculating totals of the different lipoprotein components for at least some of the plurality of lipoproteins using normalized optical density waveforms produced by the integrated value, and determining a lipid phenotype based on a comparison of the totals to a corresponding reference value.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

US Patent 5,958,202 to Regnier et al. discloses methods and apparatus for electrophoretic separation that uses enzyme-amplified detection methodology.

US Patent 5,853,979 to Green et al. discloses a method and system in which normalization is used to detect a high degree of correlation between a clean fragment pattern and a standard fragment pattern.

Neither of the above cited references anticipate or make obvious the Applicant's claimed invention for the reasons provided in the examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Anthony Gutierrez whose telephone number is (571) 272-2215. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday.
